OHIO'S SENIOR SENATOR RETURNS THANKS FOR RE-ELECTION.

Brief Review of the Country's Condition and Public Questions-Mc-Creary's Title Made Clear.

COLUMBUS, O., Jan. 15.-What interest was lacking in the present session of the Ohio Legislature was fully made up Wednesday morning at the time fixed for the formal re-election of Joseph B. Foraker to the United States Senate. There was an hour's session of the Senate at 10 o'clock, which was adjourned to the chamber of the House of Representatives, for the joint session at which the ballot of yesterday taken by the separate houses was confirmed in joint session. Senator Foraker had practically no opposition, the division being purely partisan, the Democratic members supporting Hon. Charles W. Baker, of Cincinnati. Every Republican present cast his vote for Senator Foraker.

The election of Senator Foraker was purely a formal one. There were no addresses, except that of the senator, and no demonstrations, except the spontaneous applause which greeted the Senator when he was introduced to the General Assembly. He said in part:

"I have my fair share of enemies and detractors, as every other public man has had since the beginning of the government, and will have until the end of time. It is not pleasant to have enemies, but it is a great satisfaction to be able to set down over against all they have said or may say the answering fact that of all the many honors it has been my good fortune to enjoy at the hands of the Republicans of Ohio every one, without a single exception, has come to me with this same unanimity of expression and most of them by acciamation and without solicitation. * * *

"Since I stood here six years ago on a similar occasion a great deal of important | Schley. history has been made. At that time the country was suffering from universal business paralysis and prostration. There was a serious controversy going on as to the cause and the remedy. All agreed that prosperity should be restored; but there then recognized that the first great work of the immediate future had relation to our economic conditions. Time has passed. The record has been made. It is before you. It speaks for itself. My contribution may have been small, but, whether much or little, it went to swell the grand aggregate of effort by which the greatest industrial wonders of all time have been wrought. Long vanished prosperity has returned, and never in the history of the world has there been anything like what we now enjoy.

"The great industrial problem of Europe at this time is not how to sell in our markets, but how to protect their own from our commercial invasion, and one of our greatest industrial problems is how to go on indefinitely collecting the stupendous balance of trade in our favor without bankrupting all the rest of the world and thus destroying the customers we are acquiring. "The floods of gold that are pouring in upon us are rapidly making us the great creditor nation of the earth, so that henceforth we shall hold the securities of other peoples and collect interest from them on their obligations instead of, as heretofore, paying them tribute on ours.

"If nothing more than this had been acwho participated in the good work to the gratitude and the plaudits of the American people. But, great as have been these economical achievements, others there are and of that fact. greater. Unexpected emergencies have arisen and unforeseen responsibilities have been laid upon us. This is not a proper time for their discussion, or even for their | Derby race and the Boralma-Abbot race enumeration, but it is a fitting opportunity for the statement that all emergencies, whether of peace or of war, have been successfully met, and all the responsibilities side. The club which offers the largest have been faithfully discharged

"Grave questions of a vital character relating to our power to acquire, hold and govern territory to the necessities of the governed have been settled for all time in favor of the authority of the United States. As a result we are to-day more than ever before in our history a world power in the fullest meaning of that phrase. In consequence, the term for which you have now re-elected me will doubtless be distinguished for new problems of grave importance and far-reaching consequences. The interoceanic canal, our merchant marine, our navy, the government of our insular possessions, our relations with Cuba, and especially our trade relations with other commercial countries, will demand and must receive the highest and best thought of the legislative mind. The senator thanked the members for the great honor conferred and closed with a tribute to the late President McKinley and his successor, Theodore Roosevelt.

This Settles the Controversy.

JACKSON, Miss., Jan. 15.-Both houses of the Legislature to-day unanimously adopted a resolution declaring Rear Admiral Schley to be the rightful hero of the battle of Santiago, and "entitled to the unfailing gratitude of his country." The resolution indorses the report of Admiral

George Tebeau, owner of the Kansas City franchise in the American Association, was in Indianapolis yesterday in conference with Manager Watkins. Tebeau has visited nearly all the cities that comprise the American Association circuit since he left Kansas City several days ago. He is bubbling over with enthusiasm regarding the prospects for the new association next season. He canvassed the situation in Minneapolis, St. Paul and Milwaukee and says the prospect could not be better. He of Mexican aristocracy. The rite was that says Quinn, of Milwaukee, is still determined to build an expensive new park with a steel grand stand. "Quinn told that he really wants the Western League to put a club in Milwaukee," said Tebeau last night. "He believes that he could not secure better advertisement for his club than to have a linor league club playing in the city. In St. Paul the association magnates have secured options on ground for a new park that will be in the heart of the city. I do not see how the Western League will live until the season opens. I expect to read its obituary at any time. The Kansas City people are all with me, excepting Whitfield, sporting editor of the Kansas City Star, who happened to be elected president of the Western League to further Manning's cause. I fear no opposition in that city."

Tebeau was shown a special from Kansas City last night that read: 'The Western League is whipped already. They didn't do a thing to-day and Thursday the papers, except the Star, will say the affair was a fizzle. The league adjourned to meet in Denver, Feb. 15. It was an awful frost.' Tebeau took the dispatch good naturedly, but did not show any great signs of relief, for he said he never thought of the

"That is the first time I have ever been accused of being crooked," said Watkins last night. to Know All. John T. Brush declares that he desires the public to know all that took place behind closed doors at the National League meeting in New York. Spalding requested the publication of the stenographic report and Mr. Brush followed this with a telegram to Nick Young yesterday asking him if the minutes have been transcribed to wire him if they show that he presented any scheme to the league during any of its sessions which called for the formation of a baseball trust, or if they show that after he presented such a scheme he discussed it. Mr. Brush added in the telegram: "I submitted some documentary matter to the representatives of four clubs, after the league meeting one night, and after presenting it, asked them to look it over without prejudice until they could hear what was to be said regarding it. It was returned next morning, before the meeting convened, and never was submitted or discussed. Wire me if all the discussion regarding a baseball trust was not a recital of the Spalding scheme, of which I gave a history." Young

Mr. Brush will not discuss the story emanating from Chicago to the effect that he and Freedman are to join the American League other than to deny it. TRYING OUT AT NOTRE DAME.
